

deHertz — the AI memory pendant built in Dubai.

A 36 mm pendant worn as jewellery that transcribes, summarises and makes searchable every conversation of the day — in fifteen languages, often within one sentence.

WHAT IT IS

deHertz is a wearable voice recorder with an AI layer. Worn on a chain, it captures conversations in Ambient mode (all day) or Focused mode (one conversation), syncs to the deHertz app, and returns a transcript, a summary, and the tasks, reminders and decisions it heard — each backed by the exact words they came from.

WHY IT MATTERS HERE

Business in the Gulf runs in Arabic, English, Hindi and Urdu — frequently in the same meeting. Existing note-takers join scheduled video calls in one language. deHertz is designed for the corridor, the site walk and the majlis, and follows a language switch mid-sentence, writing each in its own script.
